DECEMBER
President’s Report

Dear Members,

By Christmas it will be six months since I have taken charge as President of Catholic Club. Although I have been a member of the Club for many years and part of the Managing Committee for a few I am still on a learning curve as to how this great Club of ours functions. What has become very clear to me is that it would not be as successful as it is without the dedication and hard work of the Managing Committee, the Advisory Committees, Executives & Staff who administer our day to day functioning. I am sure when we look around many of us will be proud of the way in which the Club has grown over the years.

I would very much like to thank each and every one of you, members, for the support and encouragement you gave to me and my committee during the past few months with your patronage and participation in all club events. It is a true privilege and honour to be at the helm of a club which, in my humble opinion, is well on its way to becoming one of Bangalore’s best Clubs. Many believe it is already the best!

After a hectic last week of October, with three back to back shows, November was low on entertainment. Apart from the weekend shows on Fridays and Saturdays we did not have any big events, but there was plenty happening in the other departments which more than made up for the lack of any major show. The first ever IPL style Cricket Tournament was literally a big hit, the big hitters helping their team to win the maiden CC Cricket League Trophy. This event was well attended and cheered on by the spectators the four teams fought for the maiden title and the best team won. The Soul Sisters Karaoke Craze and Sassy Seniors Diwali Delights were shows which lived up to expectations and were thoroughly enjoyed by the ladies and seniors. The senior’s event was a huge success. Seniors Diwali Delights were shows which lived up to expectations and were thoroughly enjoyed by the ladies and seniors. The senior’s event was a huge success.

The Club had iKidz Young Readers and iBrowse events with more than 100 participants at each of these events. Besides this there was also the Annual Romp Run, Bumper Housie, Bumper Rummy Knock Out etc. which was well attended. Entertainment will be back with a bang and will be at its peak in the month of December with a variety of programs to cater to all age groups. There is something happening everyday so please refer to the program brochure which will give you details of all the events. Also check out details of the lucky draw where members can win Rs. 10000/- every day in December, a small gesture of saying thank you dear members for all your support. With so much happening make sure you are there with family and friends.

There is one event which is very dear to many members of our Club, ‘The Children’s Christmas Party’ organised by the Catholic Club Orphans Trust (CCOT). This year we have invited more than 100 children who will spend an entire day at the club. It is by no means an easy task to organize this event and ensure that the children have a good time and without the support of members it would not be possible. CCOT will need all the help it can get in meeting the expenses to conduct this party so please be generous with your donations and gifts. On behalf of the CCOT I take this opportunity to invite you all to join us and the children and see for yourselves how wonderful it is to see the children smile and how thankful we are for the donations that make it happen year after year.

It is also that time of the year when we say thank you and I would like to thank our hardworking Committee. My Sincere thanks to Samantha Pasha for planning and executing events for children, ladies and seniors for the months gone by. To Naveen Mendonca for keeping entertainment quotient high with some quality shows. Gregory Pacheco for maintaining a high standard in cuisine and ensuring that there is sufficient variety in the food served at the club. Thanks to Jude Lobo for taking the Library, iBrowse and iKidz to a different level, Tushar Fernandez for keeping the Billiards room buzzing, Nelson Philips for organising the Romp Runs and also increasing footfalls to Gym and ensuring our members stay fit. Thanks to Praveen Jerome for managing Cards & Housie and keeping the members enthused with regular Bumper Housie and Card tournaments, Dr Kenuite Martis for ensuring that sports facilities are well utilised filled with activities, Prakash Alvares for his efforts in the upgrading the Chambers and making it more guest friendly, Sunil Coutinho in pushing utility of Banquets to new heights, Jason Rego for trying to bring the Youth back to the club, Suresh Monteiro for his effortless handling of the swimming pool activities, B. Lawrence for overseeing the upkeep of the club facilities and Shashi Kiran Lewis for his efficient handling of the systems that support the Clubs operations. Thanks to our Vice President Lukose Abraham and Treasurer Brian D’lima for being a big support & guidance in handling matters of the club.

I would also like to thank all our staff for the outstanding job they do in keeping the club operations running efficiently. The Office staff, F&B staff, Maintenance staff, Security staff,

Can you imagine what it would be like, to find out all of your crayons have quit!! Yes quit, they are not going to color anymore for you. But why, why did the crayons just quit?? And that is what exactly the Juggad Co explained to the young impressionable Ikidz on the 11th of November 2018. “The day the crayons quit” is a play based on the bestselling book of the same name. Written by Drew Daywalt, a delightful little book about how all the crayons in the box are protesting about something or the other. The crayons have a genuine problem and have had enough. So they have decided to quit.
The Juggad Co’s adaptation of the book, is a high energy entertainment with modified popular songs to communicate to the young ikidz what’s happening on stage and also get to sing along with them.
Some of them were hilarious new versions of regular everyday songs and rhymes. My kids still belt out the new version of Ol’Mcdonald, which ends with Aiyo Ai aiyo!!! What a brilliant performance. Another feather in the cap for MC member Jude and his Ikidz subcommittee. And let’s not forget to thank Uncle Prem from the library for the lovely crayon hats.
Christmas is around the corner, and we feel like singing some carols!!! Jingle bells, Jingle bells jingle all the way!! Do you know this popular carol, was not named Jingle bells before, and that some of the words are modified. Do you know the origins of Carols?? Got you all thinking right!! This is what we are going to do in the next Ikidz Event – The History of Carols on the 16th of December 2018 at 4 p.m. Besides enlightening you all, on the origin of the carols, we are also going to teach you some of the carols. That’s not all, do get your handmade ornament to decorate our one of a kind Christmas Tree in the Library. So hurry and get your tickets!!! You know the drill, Passport Holder : Rs 250 and Non –passport Holder – Rs 300. You know if I were you, I would really hurry and get those passports, besides the discounted tickets, you get to collect lovely stickers after every event.

Dream Collector Giant Saves the Day:
BFG is written by Roald Dahl, a book that even another great author David Walliams has liked. The story is about a girl named Sophie who meets a big friendly giant, who collects dreams and puts these in people. However, he wants to get rid of some bad giants who eat humans. At last they think of an idea to put dreams in Queen Elizabeth, who takes bad giants in a helicopter and throws them in a hole. This is one of the first Roald Dahl books I read. I liked the idea that someone can collect dreams, like coins or stamps, and then can use this for good. I wish all my friends would read this book.
Written by Zac Sangeeth, 7 years old, Grade 2 student of Headstart Educational Academy.

Books and more
In November we purchased 16 new books, we had some great books donated by Ashu Desai - 150, Wendy Waheed - 15, Mrs.Louis John Dmello-65 Mills&Boons, Pragya Jain - 15, Marie-Alphonse Merandez - 6 magazines, and Anthony Pinto - 150 books , thank you all for your generosity and sharing your passion for reading with our members.
The Media Centre in the library is for members and Chambers guests do come use it to catch up on the news, browse magazines, check your mail, photocopy and print urgent documents also check out reference books, religious books and self help books.

We introduced a limited quantity of water proof Tote bags for you to carry your books to and from the library, these are available with Prem the librarian for rupees one hundred each, help preserve our library books

November @ iBrowse : 'The Boy Who Loved Trains' by Deepak Sapra.
November 17th was literally a literary evening at the CC Ballroom. The charming young author Deepak Sapra regaled us with excerpts from his book ' The boy who loved Trains '. Who better than a panel of equally accomplished guests. Professor Rajiv Gowda, an MP & prof from IIM Bangalore also happened to be the authors former teacher & guide.

Mr V Anand, a senior officer in the railways, was a colleague of Deepak’s, he had some very interesting & insightful stories to share. Age did not deter him from answering a lot of curious questions from the audience ! Not forgetting his humour.....

Our moderator Col. Ranjeev Babu, VSM, a highly decorated officer in the Indian army was spectacular. He brought up some pertinent questions regarding the working & running of a vast organisation like the Indian Railways. Nobody went back home without a story to tell & a warm sense of comraderie & friendship, almost like what one would experience on a great train journey!

Afternoon Tea - A touch of Nostalgia' by Bridget White Kumar. 14 December, 5 pm :

Bridget White Kumar, Anglo Indian culinary historian thought she'd stir up some nostalgia and revive the almost forgotten tradition of Afternoon Tea, which became a custom in the early part of the 20th century during the British Raj.
One could just conjure up images of the English and Anglo-Indian ‘Memsahibs’ enjoying Afternoon Tea laid out on tables covered with snowy white tablecloths, seated on white garden chairs on a velvet green lawn and being served tiny cucumber sandwiches, cakes, scones, tea cakes, flapjacks and pastries by obsequious servants, drinking tea from miniature fine Bone China teacups, bringing to mind, scenes of an ordered, easy, leisurely life amid gentle Indian settings in those early times.

We also plan to have a live cooking demo of a Christmas sweet or two! Be there!!!

Lace & Turmeric: Vignettes of Old Bangalore

I asked for stories and I got one better!
As we enter our favourite season of chilly winter air and warm nights spent together in festive cheer at the club, Anisha Rego’s memories of Bangalore through the decades will take each of us back to the parts of it that purl from her pen in this sensory account. Grab a mug of piping hot chocolate, a cookie or two, and curl up in your favourite chair to go back in time with her delightful memoir’ella...

Contributed by Anisha Rego

Back in the Ban-glory days
Walking down the length of tree lined avenues you could almost hear the orange flowers of the overtowering Gulmohar trees call out to the little children on their walk home from school; “Come and play boys and girls. The nail polish is ready to peel and the pichkus have just fallen and are ready for your water fight.”

Pasta and pizza meant walking down the rusty green staircase, past the chaat shop and the stretch of other outlets to stop at Casa Piccola. Holding your head in your hands as they rest on the yellow and blue checked table cloth, while you wait eagerly for your food. On some nights you’d be lucky to have the Music Man complete the ambience as he played his mouth-organ and guitar in unison.

If Cherry pie was the dessert you were craving, there was no place else. The cherry red in your head automatically took shape in a pair of lips, and before you knew it you were at The Only Place. It was always a conundrum, whether to wait and let the icecream melt and drown the crisp pastry, or to gobble it all down and delight at the combination of hot and cold in your mouth.

You’re sure to have at least one book in your home branded with the semicircle seal on the carefully stuck library card under its cover. Eloor Lending Library was a bibliophile’s paradise. It was a place one would always find themselves going back to, even if it meant having to put aside the embarrassment of paying the continuous fine for ‘late return’ of the book you knew very well was lost never to be found again.

Upon hearing the word ‘Koshy’s’ you had one of two things pop into your head, coffee or Grandma’s cookies. These sound like they go together but are both products of completely separate establishments. On St. Mark’s road, Koshy’s goes hand in hand with coffee. Coffee that is served in the company of intellectual conversation of literature and theatre fanatics. A mere sip making you feel like you’ve grown in knowledge and wisdom. Find yourself in Koshy’s on Wellington Street however, and it’s an entirely different vibe. The same man with the mustache seems to have run this bakery for years, and as he packs your vanilla drops into the packet with the Grandma printed on, you can’t help but imagine an alternate universe where the two of them were married.

You didn’t need to go to Shimla to feel the cool breeze and pleasant weather, nor to get on those fun toy-train rides. Cubbon Park afternoons always included toy-train rides, and wanting to get off to buy an orange ice candy half way through, as you heard the bell on the Kwality Walls cart ring. These rides were followed by frisbee and catch on the grass. The day culminated in hot bhutta or poly-mango (based on what you felt like) smeared with chilli powder and salt.
Soul Sisters

A fabulous Soul Sisters Karaoke Camouflage morning. These ladies are in the Army now, beware. They sang and danced to their hearts content, and were given some expert advice on how to take extra special care of their hair and skin, considering life in the army is tough. The mike got no rest as the ladies lined up and belted out their favorite numbers backed up by our Karaoke Jockey Rebecca Vieyra. We thank her earnestly for bringing the house down with all the singing. Our Honour Our Own recipient for the month was Priyanka. Sumptuous snacks and coffee were the rejuvenation between songs. A big Thank you to our sponsors, Honey Franklin, Sunila Johnson from Wink and Dr Shireen Furtado, for coming out to advice our ladies. Our ladies went home with a gift that will remind them every day to, “Believe in yourself, you are a star”

Heels & High-Ladies you asked for this and here you go, put on your heels, get shimmered in pink and let’s hit the bar. With shorteats and shooters, shimmer and shake don’t you think a lovely Soul Sisters evening this would make? Giggles and laughter no thought of yesterday or the morning after, it’s your time to bond with your girlie gang taking with you only memories of the loud noisy songs you sang.

Sassy Seniors

Our Sassy Seniors evening Diwali DeLIGHTS saw 130 attendees at a whole different venue, the pool side. All lit up with flowers and candles floating in the illuminated clear blue water. Our seniors came in their ethnic silks and the evening got even more classy. Games and prizes galore lit up many more faces. Fabian played and sang some good music and we even had quite a few on the dance floor. Oscar and Philip gave Fabian a rest now and then with their lovely voices. Indian snacks and our Indian speciality Biryani made very well by our kitchen left no one complaining. Finally a box of Indian sweets was what our attendees went home with in keeping with our Indian saying, keep your “muh meetha” until Christmas.

We Thank Bahri Estates for part sponsoring the event.

Spunky Superbrats

Animals at the Club, really? This was the question on all our Superbrats lips whenever they saw me in the corridors of the Club. Yes, I would say, only depending on Ossie Martin to make this happen for our little ones. Yes, he did. Thank you, Ossie & Ivan. Our Kids Carnival was this and more. We had juggling and hooping and poi spinning and the top performers were our little acrobats lead by Anya our own little gymnast from CC. The kids got close to the little farm animals petting them and carrying them and feeding them. They fell in love with them. Our aim was to get children close to animals as we all coexist on this beautiful planet and kids who learn this early are very compassionate. Thank you to Purvankara for sponsoring the event, with their help the kids played a lot of carnival both games and subsequently went home with a stuffed toy each. We had them beaming from ear to ear. Our tweens and teens came out in large numbers to volunteer with us, wearing the slogan “Changing the world always needs volunteers” on their Tees. We are very appreciative of this.

Our next Children’s Spunky Superbrats on 21st December 2018, from 4 PM to 6 PM. Disney, does Christmas get better than this? Come celebrate Christmas with your favourite Disney characters. Take pictures with them, talk to them, ask them all you ever wanted to know about them. There will be a bouncing castle and loads of other fun. Welcome Santa in your favourite Disney costume as he comes all the way from the North Pole with all the gifts that each one of you asked him for. Our own DJ Neil Hoskins has a special surprise for all of you and as usual he will be playing your favourite music all evening. Dig into goodies and feel the spirit go right thru to your tiny tummies. The spirit of Christmas.

The show of spirit from participants reaffirmed the fun in ROMP RUN. The 3rd Anniversary was no exception with a record participation, ROMP RUN 2018, was even more exciting as the number of families that came together early Sunday morning for the run was overwhelming. Romp organising team; Nasreen Varkey, Maya Bashyam, Zltnan, Rizwan and Deepthi Msal supported by the Gym Trainers Suresh, Wayne, Raju and staff Ramu were key in making the 3rd Anniversary Run a success.
